Here we provide you with the necessary information for the SWIFT Transfer: Destination Bank Data (name of the bank, SWIFT code and address) and Beneficiary Data (name of the beneficiary, address and current account number).

It is important that the information registered in codes 70 and 71-A of the SWIFT transfer is entered in the same way that it is displayed in the payment window, since it allows the identification of the payment and its association with the declared F.129. In addition, it prevents the generation of erroneous or improper charges.

The payment of this tax is collected by the General Treasury of the Republic and the declaration of the F.129 must be made through the Internal Revenue Service, an operation that runs from the crossing of information between both entities.

We ask you to enter a valid email address to send this information, which is key to making payments by SWIFT transfer.
